

Women's Health Research Team

collaborate
innovate advocate

Research Assistant Position Available!

The Women's Health Research Team (WHRT) is looking for qualified, ambitious, and motivated students to fill this research-driven position.

The WHRT investigates health issues specific to women and adolescent girls, promotes interdisciplinary research collaborations, and communicates research findings and health-related information to empower women in our community, South Carolina, and beyond.

Research assistants are typically unpaid; however, we will facilitate academic credit for internships, independent studies, and Bachelor's Essays. We also work with students to obtain funding, including SURF and MAYS grants. Research Assistants receiving credit are expected to work at least 10 hours per week and attend all scheduled WHRT meetings. Paid opportunities for graduate students may be available.

Responsibilities:

- Assist with qualitative and quantitative data collection, including focus groups, interviews, and web-based surveys.
- Assist with qualitative and quantitative data analyses, including transcription and coding.
- Conduct comprehensive literature searches using PubMed and other electronic databases.
- Summarize quantitative and qualitative findings in manuscripts and presentations.
- Maintain confidentiality of all study information.
- Participate in Women's Health Research Team meetings.
- Assist with additional duties, as needed.

Requirements:

- Excellent research and writing skills, organizational skills and attention to detail
 - Proficiency in Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Prezi, Dropbox, Zotero, HyperResearch, SPSS
 - CITI Training
-

For more information about the application process, visit <http://hhp.cofc.edu/whrt/>

Like us: Women's Health Research Team

Follow us: @WHRT_CofC

Follow us: @cofcwhrt

